PCL TEAM TO PLAY 11 HOME GAMES; TO ARRIVE MARCH 16

The Sacramento Solons, sixth place finishers in the Pacific Coast League last year will launch spring training at the Polo Grounds here beginning March 16, it was announced today by the City of Palm Springs and the Chamber of Commerce.

Kaye Hall, director of Parks and Recreation, and Jimmy Cooper, manager of the Chamber of Commerce, made the announcement jointly here today.

THE SOLONS, operating under new management, reportedly rejected a cash guarantee from another Southern California city that had wanted the team to train there.

"We did turn down," admitted

Theater Under Stars to Start

RANCHO MIRAGE — Living theater "under the stars" will mark another first for Rancho Mirage, when the "Rainmaker" opens on March 24.

The new legitimate theater "Sand and Stars," has been founded by Everett "Bunky" Bunker. A resident of the desert for 27 years, Bunker has long planned to bring to the community the best known plays of the legitimate stage.

A PROFESSIONAL cast will be used with Sherwood Price and Kathy Brown as leads in most of the future productions. The cast of the "Rainmaker" has not yet been announced.

Direction will be by Bob Dyer of Riverside Community Players

Berlin Showdown Looming After Breakdown in Talks

United Press International British Prime Minister Harold Macmillan was reported leaning today toward a conference at the summit to prevent war over Berlin, but diplomatic sources in London said the Kremlin apparently has decided on a showdown.

Diplomatic reports reaching London said Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev apparently was seeking to put off negotiations with the West until Russia has handed control of the Berlin lifelines over to Communist East Germany.

UPI CORRESPONDENT Henry Shapiro, in Kiev with Macmillan, said the British Prime Minister was "more inclined to yield" on the subject of summit talks than is President Eisenhower but only if there is no other way to prevent war.

Today marked the half-way mark in the six-month period offered by the Soviets before they turn Berlin controls over to their

with local talent to be used in supporting roles wherever possible.

Site chosen for the new outdoor theater is the beautiful grounds surrounding the large central pool in Rancho Mirage, adjacent to the Whispering Waters Hotel.

BEAUTIFULLY landscaped and uniquely located, the site offers an unobstructed view of the desert and should furnish a fascinating backdrop for staging.

The list of coming productions includes "Boyfriend," "White Cargo," "Desert Song," "Carousel," "Fifth Season" and others.

If Bunker's plans work out, his living theater will be a year-round feature, each production having a run of two weeks, and the theater dark on Sundays.

City Signs Golf Course Lease Pact

Westview Given One Week to Act on Document

The lease is signed.

Palm Springs City Council last night authorized Acting City Manager Shelby Langford to affix his signature to the lease - purchase agreement with Westview Development Corporation for a Palm Springs Municipal Golf Course.

THE ACTION followed a half-hour session of discussion of parts of the lease between Allen Rubin, attorney for Scotty Rubin and the developers of Westview, and the city.

Last night's discussion was preceded by many hours of discussion and work, plus a series of hearings by the City Council and the Westview developers.

Under the terms of the lease, which comprises 13 pages, plus eight exhibits, the City of Palm Springs will have an option to purchase the golf course anytime between the third and tenth year of the lease, with the lease running for a total of 16 years, plus an option of 25 years.

THE ANNUAL rental payment for the course, payable at the end of each fiscal year, is applicable to the purchase price with the exception of the payments made July 1, 1960, and July 1, 1961.

The total purchase price is $915,000, but if the city does not exercise its option to purchase the property between the third and tenth year, the purchase price after the tenth year will be $415,000, and no rental payments either previously or thereafter made will apply to the purchase price.

Every minute detail of the agreement between the city and the Westview Development Corporation was gone over again and again by attorneys for the groups, and the wording of the lease was checked and double-checked.

IN THE CITY COUNCIL resolution directing the acting city manager to sign the lease agreement, the council gave the officers of Westview Development Corporation one week in which to sign.

COMPLETELY DEMOLISHED was this car after the driver, William J. Swancy, 27, of Palm Springs, attempting to avoid a collision with another car, turned his vehicle over several times before it came to rest upright in the center of Highway 111 near the Palm Springs depot. Suffering minor injuries in the accident was a passenger in the car, L. C. Carroll, 345 El Segundo, Palm Springs, who did not want an ambulance. According to Swancy, a car pulled out of Tipton Road and moved slowly into the line of traffic in front of his car, and he drove across the highway in an attempt to avoid a collision. Traffic officer Nick Maff, shown above at car, reported that the number of times the car turned over could not be determined. (Desert Sun Photo).

TEEN-AGERS TO PRESENT OWN IDEAL OF AMERICANISM

A gang of teen-agers—totally different from any that ever wage a gang war—met here yesterday but they didn't plan a "rumble." Instead, they went over the lines for the roles they'll play in "The New American," third and last of three Moral Re-Armament presentations, which hits the stage of the Palm Springs High School Auditorium at 8:30 tonight.

"IT'S AN ANSWER to the rest of the world," said Wilbur Chaffee, a former Pasadena professor who plays a professor with leftist tendencies in the play. "All over the world people are looking at this country and saying that we have produced untold wealth and limitless production but what have we produced in the way of a new American."

"This," added pretty Elli Van de Water, a former Westwood teen-ager who portrays a not-so-typical high school coed, "is our answer."

JOHN VON TEUBER, an ex-San Francisco youth who wrote—in conjunction with two other young men—the story of "The New American," said that the idea for the play evolved simply.

"We just decided that the American ideal should be stated in a play. None of us are humorists, but the story creates some pretty funny situations.

"We have a lot of fun doing it," he smiled.

THE AUDIENCES have been having more fun than the cast, though, if reaction can be a guide.

In Los Angeles, before two audiences that totaled nearly 2,500, such dignitaries as the speaker of the Japanese parliament, the director of Radio Indonesia, the chief of staff of the Korean Air Force, the executive secretary of the National Academy of Science and a host of other theatergoers were loud in their praise of the production.

In Thermal, where students of Coachella Valley Union High School demanded three repeats of the powerful story, many students suddenly rejected duck-tail conformity for an association with the ideal of MRA.

"We do have," said Chaffee, "an answer to 'Blackboard Jungle'."

"And to 'Rebel Without a Cause,'" added Mrs. Trevitt.

"What we've got to do is have it seen by young people all over the world," von Teuber said.

"The Communists are staging a huge youth festival in Vienna this year," said Miss Van de Water. "Something has to be done to offset it."

If they could find the stages and the transportation to them, you somehow feel that this group of teen-agers not only would but could do that monumental job themselves.

Sales, Use Tax Receipts Continue to Show Increase

Sales and use tax receipts edged up to $119,497 for the first five months of fiscal 1959, reflecting a continuing upswing for Village retail sales.

City Finance Director Shelby Langford said that tax receipts for last November hit $17,676, bringing the five-month total to an all-time high.

Langford explained that tax collections made by the state are received by the city about 90 days after collection, resulting in a three-month delay in tax reports.

Formal Note To Be Sent To Russia

No Indication On Red Position Given to Date

WASHINGTON (UP)—The State Department said today the United States "will communicate with the Soviet Union" on the boarding by U. S. Naval personnel of a Russian fishing trawler off New Foundland.

The trawler was boarded to check whether its crew had damaged a multi-million-dollar transatlantic cable network.

LINCOLN WHITE, State Department spokesman, said a formal note would be sent to Moscow when the department has received and assessed all the information possible.

"We will communicate with the Soviet Union when all of the facts are developed," he said.

Asked what the United States would say if the "facts" failed to show any responsibility on the part of the trawler, either intentional or accidental, White said he did not "want to anticipate" contents of any American communication.

THERE WAS NO immediate indication whether Moscow would view the incident as a major issue to further strain Soviet-American relations or accept it as a routine move under an international treaty to protect undersea cables.

A five-man party from the destroyer Roy O. Hale scrambled aboard the Soviet ship Novorossisk at noon Thursday about 120 miles northeast of St. Johns, Newfoundland.

AN INITIAL REPORT by Lt. Cmdr. E. J. Korte, skipper of the Hale, said his men found no evidence the 1,670-ton Russian vessel was bent on anything "other than fishing." But the question of whether the ship had damaged the cables by accident was left open.

Korte turned the destroyer toward Argentina, Newfoundland where he was due tonight. The State Department will have to decide on the basis of Korte's detailed report what, if any representations it will make to the Kremlin.

NO RESISTANCE to the U. S. boarding party was encountered, according to Adm. Jerauld Wright, U. S. Atlantic Fleet commander. He said the trawler's master was "friendly and cooperative."

Conversations between the American sailors and the Russian crew were conducted in French.

A spokesman for Canadian Overseas Telecommunications Corp. (COTC), part owners of one of the broken Transatlantic cables, said Thursday night at Montreal that "we had, and have had, no reasons to suspect this was anything other than a routine break."

Bedside Berlin Parley for Dulles

WASHINGTON (UP)—Administration officials said today that Ailing Secretary of State John Foster Dulles is taking a greater part in foreign policy each day and shows every intention of resuming his post full-time if at all possible.

HISTORICAL MOMENT of the signing of the lease-purchase agreement for a municipal golf course by the City of Palm Springs was watched by all the members of the City Council as acting City Manager Shelby Langford affixes his name. Seated next to Langford at the signing of the lease is City Attorney Jerry Bunker, who made a

Cockpit Instrumentation Safety Program Reviewed

Some 250 delegates to the 39th Air Force-Aircraft Industry Conference on Flight Safety yesterday concluded a critical review of progress in the cockpit instrumentation field in sessions at the El Mirador Hotel.

The three-day meeting was attended by representatives of the Army, Navy, Air Force Marine Corps, Royal Canadian Air Force, 73 corporations, two universities, Federal Aviation Agency, and the National Aeronautics and Space Administration.

CONFEREES HEARD and saw proposals for such new developments as the Army-Navy Instrumentation Program for which the El Segundo Division of Douglas Aircraft Company is the prime contractor.

A. M. Mayo, chief of equipment and safety research for Douglas — El Segundo described the radically new aircraft cockpit concept which incorporates transparent flat-plate television tubes to display in simplified form all information necessary for a pilot to fly his plane on all-weather missions.

MAJ. GEN. JOSEPH D. Caldar, Director of Flight Safety Research, USAF, the Pentagon level unit from Norton Air Force Base, San Bernardino, which sponsored the conference, said the discussions highlighted the need for improved cockpit instruments as a means of preventing aircraft accidents and making flying easier, safer.

Distinguished guests included Lt. Gen. Francis H. Griswold, vice commander-in-chief, Strategic Air Command, Offutt Air Force Base, Neb.; Maj. Gen. Jack W. Wood, deputy inspector general, Norton Air Force Base; Maj. Gen. Marvin C. Demier, director of Research and Development, Headquarters USAF; and Brig. Gen. Milton F. Summerfelt, deputy commander, Sacramento Air Materiel Area, McClellan Air Force Base, plus a host of key industry executives, engineers, and government officials.

The next Air Force-Aircraft Industry Conference, the 40th, is tentatively scheduled for late April and again will be held in Palm Springs.

No Depth in Numbers

WASHINGTON, D. C. — One, two, three, while defensible in matrimony and religion, is a poor state of affairs in government, to wit: No opposition: In the shiny new Senate Office Building, a Labor-Welfare subcommittee was taking testimony on one of the most controversial measures of the postwar era — Federal aid to local schools.

Advocates of the measure have been saying that education must be standardized by a Federal yardstick which measures everything from elbow room to "appealing esthetic values," quoting from the U. S. Education Commissioner, Dr. Lawrence G. Dethick. Opponents of Federal aid say that standardization and conformity are the very things to be avoided in education, and that the Federal Government has no place in this most localized of all community matters.

SAY WHAT YOU WILL, there are at least two sides to this argument, but you couldn't prove it the other day in the committee room. When I arrived there were three Democrats and two Republicans present, a nominal 3 to 2 ratio, not bad as things go in the 86th Congress. But — lock again.

The Democrats were Senators McNamara, Morse and Clark, all three for Federal aid. The Republicans were Senators Case (N. J.) and Cooper, both for Federal aid. So far as having a balanced, impartial, or objective tribunal to consider this measure affecting the youth and future of America, we might as well have had an animated panel of rubber stamps.

NO CONTEST: Maybe it was because I recently saw my first bullfight. Anyway, the Senate chamber these days often seems the scene of preordained, one-sided slaughtering with very little sport in it. The bull ring in Mexico City is the finest in the world. I went there, took a forward seat and waited with queasy misgivings to witness a Sunday card which called for six "fights."

I almost left after the first one, and did leave after the third. The ritual of torment and cruelty did not speak to my unrefined tastes, although 30 million Mexicans need not be wrong.

BUT THE BRAVE bulls were not stabbed, speared and done to death any more hopelessly than the Republican minority in the Senate chamber. The competition with the Democratic terrors, picadors and matadors is virtually as fatal for the GOP in the 86th Senate as for the bovines in the sand arena.

The Republicans have two, maybe three Senators who can give as good as they take. Styles Bridges on the Mikoyan visit was in old tradition of denunciatory opposition. Everett Dirksen is an inimitable stylist who, in a monarchy, would have been knighted for his passage at arms with the Democrats on the President's budget.

BUT IF YOU can find one fighting kidney among the remaining 32 Republican Senators that will be about all. Hardly a memento remains of the days when the GOP walls were manned by the monumental Vandenberg, the indefatigable Taft; the epigrammatic Milligan, the pug-nacious Wherry, the stalwart and conscientious Knowland.

The Republican half of the Senate chamber ought to be covered with sand to absorb the blood that will flow before this Congress comes to its merciful end.

NO REPLACEMENT: For better than six years Secretary Dulles has been our Horatius at the Bridge. His "inflexibility" has been his refusal to give an unnecessary or unconfessed inch to the Soviet diplomatic drive for world revolution. Much of the anti-Dulles criticism in this and other places is at bottom a complaint against the size and menace of the Communist Monster itself, not really against the Secretary.

But somebody ought to say that Horatius, however heroic, represents the concept of makeshift and indispensability. These are inexorably poor pillars of a foreign policy by a major nation. The Eisenhower Administration has consummated a major failure in preparedness after six years in office, after two years past Mr. Dulles' first operation for cancer, after many months when the Secretary was visibly collapsing before the eyes of friend and foe.

Reliance on the Indispensable Man, even a talented and fortitudinous one like Mr. Dulles, is the monstrous kind of folly which has historically preceded the fall of great nations.—Holmes Alexander.

Quotes from the News

WASHINGTON — Phillips Bernan, John Foster Dulles' first secretary, reporting on a birthday visit to Dulles in Walter Reed Hospital:

"We had lots of good laughs with him. He was quite sharp as a matter of fact. He was full of beans."

JACKSON, Miss. — Youth Court Judge Billy Horton, in a wire lauding a Memphis judge's refusal to prosecute a high school principal for paddling unruly students:

"Congratulations on your decision. It is regrettable we cannot order the parents spanked in some cases."

CAMBRIDGE, Mass. — Dr. Gordon S. Brown, chief of MIT's electrical engineering department, on the development of a mechanical brain language which will enable one mechanical brain to supervise another:

"We've had humans talk to humans, humans talk to machines, and machines talk to machines. The thing now is to prevent the machines from talking back."

SAN FRANCISCO—Rear Adm. Jack P. Monroe, commander of the Pacific missile range, replying to a question whether a Russian attempt to put a man into space would be a suicide mission:

"I wouldn't say suicide mission. But they won't be as careful as we are. They like the quick and dirty method of getting it up there."

CHICAGO — Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey (D-Minn.), commenting on pressing for peace at the same time building defense:

"We must arm, and yet at the same time strive to turn back the tide of fear that is engendered by the mounting arms race."

NEWARK — Agriculture Secretary Ezra Benson, advocating lower price support of crops:

"We cannot spend ourselves into higher prosperity, but we can spend ourselves into real trouble."

MOSCOW — Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev on his talks with British Prime Minister Harold MacMillan:

"We think our conversations have been useful. We think you want agreement. If all cannot be solved at once, we think nevertheless much of your frankness and understanding."

GAINESVILLE, Fla. — Former defense secretary Charles E. Wilson, calling for disarmament proposals:

"Sound disarmament agreement would not only reduce the military burdens of both the East and West and improve the standards of living of all nations affected, but even more importantly, it would be pointed toward world peace."

HOLLYWOOD — Actress Arlene Dahl, on announcing plans to obtain a divorce from actor Fernando Lamas:

"I don't know where he is. I'm going to see an attorney."

LOS ANGELES—Lee F. Johnson, of Denver, former executive vice president of the National Housing Conference, calling for construction of a minimum of two million new homes a year:

"Good housing for all Americans is not the cure for all of our domestic social ills. It does, however, mark an excellent point from which to start. The cancer of slums is growing to almost every American city today, although the disease was diagnosed in the mid-30's as one requiring national action."

We catch 'em young
And teach 'em things
Like golf and tennis
Here in Palm Springs.

For two years, now, youngsters of the Palm Springs area have had the opportunity to learn tennis from an expert.

And now they are going to get an equal opportunity to learn golf, the greatest participation sport in the nation today.

DALE ANDREASON, who has the endorsement of some of the leading pros in the nation as a "great golf instructor" is starting classes for youngsters in the Junior High and High School age bracket.

So, with Dave Gillam teaching the kids the fine points of tennis and Andreason telling them all about golf, who knows but that in the not too far distance future, we'll see headlines about Joe Bloke "FROM PALM SPRINGS" winning the tennis or the golf championship.

Anything, it will be a boost for Palm Springs.

SOME YEARS AGO Ralph Nesmith took me out for an automobile ride to the northeast section of town. That was when the song "Open the Door, Richard," was the vogue.

He stopped the car in a lonely spot and told me to yell, "Open the door, Richard."

Rather puzzled, I did. And two blocks away a light flashed on and a garage door opened.

It was a radio deal he had installed.

WHAT MADE me think of that was the experience a Villager had last week.

He has one of those trick gates in his fence. Only this one has no special wave length. It opens when my friend toots the horn on his auto.

Also, he does not believe in horn blowing except in emergencies.

He had occasion to take a motor trip which took him away from home for ten days.

Coming down Sunrise Way, a little dog scampered across the street ahead of him. Wishing to assist it across safely, he touched the horn ring for the first time in some hours.

Nothing happened.

SO HE DECIDED to go home, get freshened up and then take the car to a garage to have the horn fixed. For emergencies, you know.

But he couldn't get into his yard. No horn and the gate wouldn't open.

So he went to a garage en route to his next business call. And when he drove up to it he spotted the sign:

"Automatic door—sound horn."

He gave up.

OVERHEARD TWO lawyers talking while having lunch the other day.

Said one: "Jim is really a great lawyer. Did you hear he got his client in that notorious murder case a suspended sentence?"

"No! Did he. I didn't think his client had a chance. A suspended sentence, eh?"

"Yeah, they hanged him."

Oh well, this is the bottom of the column.

STAN DELAPLANE'S Postcard

"This Gaslight Club, now, it's the envy of every high class saloon keeper in New York City. And it's the truth I'm telling you."

So spoke P. J. Moriarty, the Sixth Avenue politician who keeps an eye on New York for me. The Gaslight Club, an old brownstone on East 56th has become the No. 1 money-maker of America's 400,000 clubs, bars, aperitif parlors.

"AND ALL IT IS," said Pat Moriarty, "is a place where it takes a key to get in and they charge you $1.35 no matter what you drink. Beer or champagne, it's all one to them. And a waiting list for keys that you would not believe."

Truly an amazing thing. In the great city of New York, the place of wise-talking taxi drivers and seven-figure advertising and publication chatter.

Nothing is so popular as the place you can't get into.

FOR A GOOD many years now, Mr. Sherman Billingsley yawned off the hole polio with a gold rope at the door of his Stork Club.

At the solid gold "21," a granite-jawed head waiter screens the incoming guests. He has the eye of a Brinks armored car guard.

"Now the Gaslight Club has gone them one better," said Pat. "Because you must have a key to get in, do you see?"

"It sounds square as a cake box," I said.

"They love it," said Pat. "Even though they can come here or my other two places and I'll pour them a decent drink at a decent price. But they must show everyone they have the key. And all that's upstairs is the bars and a tinkly piano you cannot hear for the noise."

WELL, THIS IS an odd town. We are now in the process of preserving the 15-cent fare on the subways. And how will they do it?

"I propose that we put in parimutuel horse betting offices in all the subway stations," said Charles L. Patterson who heads up the giant Transit Authority.

He would put a horse betting window in each of the 268 underground and 217 out-of-the-open stations. This would service 4,500,000 customers on the average weekday with a chance at fortune. (Even non-riders would have to drop 15 cents in the turnstiles in order to get inside to the windows.)

IT IS EITHER that, said Patterson, or the subway rates must go up.

Patterson would draw the line at putting bookie windows aboard the trains themselves.

"If we started that," he said, "the next thing would be candy and gum machines on the cars."

EXPENSES UP: A large part of New York lives on the expense account. The wonderful, tax deductible expense account keeps the $20 lunchmen going in the exclusive midtown bars.

It keeps, Diner's Club and American Express and a half dozen other credit schemes rolling in a complex of bookkeeping and collection charges.

"In some of these places," said Moriarty, "it's a rare thing to see green money in the till at all. And then half the time it's only the tips."

THIS IS ANOTHER feature that gives added prestige to the Gaslight Club—you can't pay for anything, you can only sign. They send you a bill.

Moriarty said he thought the original key cost you $25—

"though I can't be sure because they sent me one for nothing."

The club was started by a Chicago advertising man, Burton Browne.

"And he offered to let me in for a piece of it," said Moriarty sorrowfully. "But I'd have none of it. What would people go into a place where you had to have a key for? That was my thought."

"And now it's the envy of them all in New York," said Pat. "Myself included."

The U.S. Gets a Big Boost

NEW YORK — Shapely, beautiful and 22, Tania Vella sat with a mink coat beside her and recalled those scary days when, at 18, she escaped from behind the Iron Curtain by running away from the Yugoslavian swimming team in Austria.

Small talk of Hollywood, Las Vegas, and Zsa Zsa Gabor with whom she's feuded, came at me across the table in the Essex House bar.

The w's usually replaced by v's, she gave me a compelling selling talk — about the U.S.A.

"I give my mother a TV set and $300 for a refrigerator when she was here. My father is Governor of the Island of Lastovo, but he doesn't make much money. When he met me in Paris, he was in a daze. He didn't believe this world existed."

"My mother I wanted to wear my mink. She said no, just get her a little cloth coat. She wasn't used to American drinks. Mostly slivovitz."

Came a night in Las Vegas. "My mother said she thought the cloth coat would look better on me that night, she would wear the mink. And she got so mad at a waiter. He hadn't put a cherry in her Manhattan."

Tania did Hollywood TV with Bob Cummings and made a movie, "Whiplash," in Puerto Rico. In Venezuela, on that trip—"I went to jail."

"They put me in jail," Tania confessed, "because they said 'You are not allowed to have your picture taken beside a statue of Simon Bolivar.'"

A guy came into Toots Shor's and said, "Toots, I was out of line last time I was here." Toots: "You were — and I can't serve you now." The guy started out. Toots, softening up, said, "But sometime when you're sober, come in and say hello." The guy softened, too, and replied, "All right, sometime when you're sober, I will."

MIKE CONNOLLY:

Feud Ended

HOLLYWOOD — Shirley MacLaine finally got her long-standing feud with Hal Wallis straightened out. The man who discovered Shirley when she took over for the ailing Carol Haney in Broadway's "Pajama Game," will let her keep ALL her loan-out loot — all $200,000! — for co-starring with Jack Lemmon in Billy Wilder's next picture, a bedroom farce called "Strangers in My Bed." Not bad for a gal who was making $15 a week in a chorus line four years ago.

Universal, same studio that fired German star O. W. Fischer from his co-starring spot opposite June Allyson in "My Man Godfrey," has fired German star Sabina Bernthmann from "Spartacus." Fischer's firing was blamed on his "temperament"; Sabina's, says a studio spokesman, stems from the fact that her German dialect doesn't "go with" the broad A's of Britishers Laurence Olivier, Charles Laughton and Peter Ustinov, and that's why Jean Simmons was signed to replace Sabina.

BUT WHAT ABOUT the other stars, same picture: Tony Curtis' Lower East Side lingo and the Yankee twangs of Kirk Douglas, John Gavin, John Dall, John Ireland and Nina Foch? . . . Be that as it may, Sabina was paid off her entire salary ($35,000) and the studio invited her back for "Backlist" this summer — if the gorgeous gal gets rid of her gutturals.

Lang Jeffries, the handsome Rescue 8 star, says he's still a bachelor because every time he meets a likely prospect she's either married to a producer or about to tape a TV show with George Jessel!

Gary Grant, that cool and collected Englishman, will play an irate and irascible Irishman in his next picture. Tentatively titled "The Hell With It," the Harry Kurnitz screen play spots Cary as the seedy, fox-hunting squire of a down-at-the-heels castle near Dublin who finally manages to get the old family manse back on its financial feet.

LANA TURNER, looking like Ben Jonson's "Goddess excellently bright," was besieged with picture offers at the premiere of her four-handkerchief "Imitation of Life," the best "woman's picture" since "Back Street." Lana told me she'll attend the Chicago premiere of "Imitation" if Otto Preminger hasn't got her calendared to start "Anatomy of a Murder" by then.

Fannie Furst, decked with calla-lily-shaped jewels, attended the premiere with producer Ross Hunter. I asked her what she thought of the drastic changes they've made in her original story. She replied, "I never brood when my dialogue and plots are changed — if they're changed as tastefully as this."

EDWARD G. Robinson's salute to Susan Kohner for her sensitive, superb performance as the Cockeyed Hollywood Story: When Milton Berle gave a party a couple or three weeks ago, Dean Martin didn't go because he thought Jerry Lewis would be there. Jerry didn't go because he thought Dean would be there. Debbie Reynolds didn't go because she thought Eddie and Liz Taylor would be there. Liz Taylor and Eddie Fisher didn't go because they thought Debbie would be there. One guy went because he was sure his wife WOULDN'T be there!

Nelson Rockefeller's tax proposals have attracted attention in Houston. Adman James C. Dunne pictures Rockefeller as saying, "The people shouldn't complain about being poor. Why, I have less money than all of them put together!" . . . Henry Morgan remembers when Fred Allen prophesied to Gary Moore, "Some day you'll be the oldest boy on television."

Dore Schary's son Jeb didn't do well in his science exams—so he told his father: "I'm in favor of science stopping for 50 years." When his father exclaimed, "Stopping!," Jeb said, "Yes, it would be better for the world."

THE MIDNIGHT EARL . . .

Singer Edith Piaf became ill, required three transfusions; Vicky Ausier did a fine job subbing for her at the Waldorf . . . Bill Holden, back from an African safari, made El Morocco his first stop . . . Abbe Lane'll bring her new cafe act to husband Xavier's Casa Cugat March 12 . . . Sexton Layla Raki, unhappy with her role, quit the B'way-bound show "Gay Felons" . . . Harwyn boss Ed Wynne says a rival cafe owner's been phoning with fictitious reservations for large parties.

Jan Murray's taking drama lessons from Red Button's former coach . . . Ross Bagdasarian got his first check for his "Chipmunk Song" — $41,000 . . . A well-known boxer was quizzed in the Anastasia murder.

CHANNEL CHATTER — Eddie Fisher plans a year's stay in New York after his TV show fades off the beam. Which probably means Liz Taylor will shoot "Two for the Seesaw" back there . . . Bert Parks, incidentally, tells me if Eddie ever guests on the Masquerade Party show he's got the perfect disguise for the singers: poise.

Diane Cannon, the year's highest paid stand-in, Diane rehearsed all of Diane Varsi's starring role in Playhouse 90's "Dingaling Girl" for two weeks because Miss Varsi couldn't make it—she was too busy shooting her first segment for Fox-TV's new Whodunit series.

Marie Wilson, no foreign-affairs specialist she, says the only thing she knows about the Middle East is that it's in the middle!

ITS AWARDS Season in Hollywood, with the Emmy-givers, Writers' Guild, producers, directors, Hollywood Foreign Press Association, etc., all rushing to grab off headlines by honoring their own before The Big Show of the year — the Academy Award Oscarcast on April 6.

And don't ask me how I know but the reason Maureen Chevalier is ducking out on his Palmer House date in Chicago for one night (March 5) is to fly to Hollywood and receive the Foreign Press' best actor-of-the-year Henrietta (that's a female Oscar, overseas division, Sonny Boy).

Synopacted Cinderella: She was a $125-a-week dance double for Betty Grable and June Haver at 20th-Fox. Her option came up. The studio dropped her rather than up the ante to $200. She left Hollywood, heartbroken, this gal who used to double from dancing to writing this correspondent's column in The Hollywood Reporter (before I joined the staff of that paper), and went to New York.

SHE IS NOW Broadway's most brilliant ballad and ballet belle since Marilyn Miller, Gertrude Lawrence or any dozen others you can mention — that bright and bouncy star of The Main Stem's biggest smash hit, "Red-head," my very good friend Gwen Verdon!

(P.S.: Her father, Bill Verdon, just came back from New York, where he saw his daughter's show for the first time, and reported back to his job as one of the "grips" on the soundstages at Cascade Television Productions.)

Gardening in the Desert

As a variation in the plant-layout of your garden, and as help in economy of your water bills, why not experiment with Desert Holly, Smoke Tree, and Palo Verde or Parkinsonia?

These and other drought resistant trees can be purchased in most local nurseries. It might be a little helpful if you have the cans cut before taking them away. Dig a hole in a selected spot (in full sun by choice). Keep the top of the can's contents about three inches below the surface of the surrounding soil, then fill in and tamp the soil to avert air pockets.

WATER THE BASIN of each until you feel that the dampness reaches to about four feet. About three soakings would be sufficient in hot weather, less if there should be heavy rains. None of these plants could be called fast growers, they just plod along and call for little attention. The Palo Verde and Parkinsonia will eventually reach 30 feet, Smoke Tree about 20, and Desert Holly about four feet.

Pinching back the tip foliage of growing plants is helpful towards lower, bushier growth, using the thumb and finger nails for the operation. Bedding annuals, when the terminal bud is pinched out of these three to four inch plants give you far more satisfaction than you receive from plants that have been allowed to grow high and straggly.

PHLOX, SALPIGLOSSIS, Marigold, Snapdragon, Pinks, Carnations, Petunias, Zinnias and other annuals respond satisfactorily to pinching back. It would be well if the amateur gardener looked upon all bedding plants as annuals. Few, if any, so-called perennials survive during the intense summer heat sufficient to have them producing the following season.

When purchasing citrus and other trees for his garden the amateur gardener should turn his back on large, old trees and stick to young, up to three to four year old trees. They suffer less from transplanting than do the older ones and are easier to handle. In our sandy soil we would suggest that the wide bed in which they are planted should consist of equal quantities of wetted peat moss, leaf mold and sand, thereby affording both an organic fertilizer and an aid to retarding the leaching of water through the sand.

IF YOU HAVE ANY deciduous young shrubs, vines or young trees that you feel like moving you can do this bare root. Cut off one third to a half of the tops, cut off any broken or damaged roots, transplant into basins of your choice, fertilize and irrigate. In a month or two they should show healthy growth.

Transplanting of evergreens call for a different process. Here you run into the process of digging around the tree about two to four feet away from the trunk, according to the age and height of the tree, cutting each root that you come in contact with on the way round, wrapping the root ball in burlap to avoid uncovering the remaining roots, then transporting the tree to its new bed.

The soil surrounding the roots should be wet from the time you start the operation until its completion, and the new bed fertilized and irrigated ready to be occupied. We would suggest that the new bed should contain the same mixture as we suggested for citrus and other trees, equal quantities of wetted peat moss, leaf mold, and sand. T.G.M.

CREA Issues New Legislative Issue in March

The California Real Estate Association this month published a special "Legislative Issue" of its official magazine, the "California Real Estate Magazine," dedicated to California's Legislators, both in Washington and Sacramento. It was announced by James B. Clayton, Jr. of San Jose, president of the 29,000-member association.

In the pages of the magazine are the pictures, biographical sketches, committee assignments and home addresses of the two United States Senators from California, California's 30 Congressmen, the 40 State Senators and 80 Assemblymen of California's State Legislature.

ARTICLES IN THE special issue tell of the history of the California State Legislature, describe the operation of the state government and discuss current issues before the legislature affecting the real estate industry and property owners.

This special issue, when published in February of 1957, received national recognition for its information service to the association's membership, the legislators and the public. The publication was praised in the Congressional Record and also was put to use in many schools throughout the state in classes on Government.

LEGISLATORS USE it throughout the sessions of the Congress and Legislature as a reference on the committee assignments, home addresses and other information of their colleagues. The publication also serves to acquaint the Realtors of California with their representatives in Washington and Sacramento.

Because of the reference value of the magazine, thousands of extra copies have been distributed to all of the governmental offices in the state as well as libraries and schools.

Electricity can now be transmitted across country at 50,000 volts.

New Bermuda Dunes Golf Course Open this Weekend

Newest golf course in the Palm Springs area will be inaugurated Sunday with a Press-Celebrity-Pro Golf tournament as the Palm Springs golfing empire stretches out all the way to Indio.

Bermuda Dunes' championship 18-hole golf course, designed by William Bell, noted golf course architect, is ready for play and a press preview party, hosted by Ray Ryan and Ernie Dunlevie, will officially introduce the new course Saturday night.

THE PRESS PARTY will be held Saturday evening in the rustic-modern Bermuda Dunes Country Club clubhouse and will be followed Sunday morning by the first tournament on the course.

Visiting press and local newsmen, celebrities and pros will tour the course Sunday morning in the first play.

Ed Vines, brother of Ellsworth Vines of Tamarisk Country Club, is the new pro at Bermuda Dunes.

THE GOLF COURSE and the clubhouse, plus the residential district, covers a 1000-acre site which just a year ago was a scenic stretch of sand dunes and brush.

Then Ryan and Dunlevie envisioned a new residential country club development for the area and this weekend, a year later, the plush clubhouse, designed by Architect Chris Choate, built by Apco Construction Company of Palm Springs and decorated by Albert Parvin and Company of Los Angeles, is ready.

BELL, DESIGNED one of the sportiest golf courses in the area at Bermuda Dunes.

He took advantage of the rolling terrain to build a well trapped course, palm-lined and a challenge to golfers.

It is so designed that each fairway and hole is a separate entity. There are no parallel fairways.

THE COURSE is highly flexible. It has a par 72 for men and par 74 for women.

It has three sets of tees. The first measures 6100 yards, the second 6500 and the championship course stretches to 7000 yards.

The fairways are extra wide. Many tournaments are planned for the new course.

Marine Basketball Tournament Starts

QUANTICO, Va. (UPI) — Defending champion Hawaii plays the San Diego Recruiting Depot in the first game of the all-Marine basketball tournament beginning Monday night. Quantico Marines, hosting the tourney, drew a bye in the opening round.

Even before Round Table was declared, three other horses assigned more weight than Terrang Jewel's Reward, Tempest II and Warhead—dropped out of the race.

But the biggest bonus of all was the 113 pound package assigned Hillsdale prior to the start of the season. For once racing got underway, the Indiana-bred colt won four stakes including the $100,000 Maturity and in every one of them carried more weight than he does Saturday.

The absence of Round Table emboldened a half-dozen owners to enter horses that would not have thought of going against the 1958 horse of the year.

The definite starters expected and entered were Terrang with 116 pounds, Eddie Schmidt 114, Seaneen 114, Hillsdale 113, Social Climber, Alibi Blue 106, Royal Living 111, Royal Close 103 and Ballyrullah 103.

The last-minute additions when entries were taken Thursday were A drew Alan 108, Anxious Moment 109, Bounty Bay 111, Jeff's Uh Oh 106, The Searcher 106 and Spinney 107.

ARCADIA (UPI) — Round Table's prestige left its mark today on the field of 15 horses entered in Saturday's $145,000 Santa Anita Handicap even though the all-time money-winning champion was forced out of the race by injuries.

As a result of Round Table defecting, top weight in the race is 116 pounds, to be carried by Terrang. Last year, the aging horse carried 119 pounds and finished second to Round Table with 130.

This year Round Table was assigned 132 pounds.

The absence of Round Table emboldened a half-dozen owners to enter horses that would not have thought of going against the 1958 horse of the year.

The definite starters expected and entered were Terrang with 116 pounds, Eddie Schmidt 114, Seaneen 114, Hillsdale 113, Social Climber, Alibi Blue 106, Royal Living 111, Royal Close 103 and Ballyrullah 103.

The last-minute additions when entries were taken Thursday were A drew Alan 108, Anxious Moment 109, Bounty Bay 111, Jeff's Uh Oh 106, The Searcher 106 and Spinney 107.

ARCADIA (UPI) — Round Table's prestige left its mark today on the field of 15 horses entered in Saturday's $145,000 Santa Anita Handicap even though the all-time money-winning champion was forced out of the race by injuries.

As a result of Round Table defecting, top weight in the race is 116 pounds, to be carried by Terrang. Last year, the aging horse carried 119 pounds and finished second to Round Table with 130.

This year Round Table was assigned 132 pounds.

Even before Round Table was declared, three other horses assigned more weight than Terrang Jewel's Reward, Tempest II and Warhead—dropped out of the race.

But the biggest bonus of all was the 113 pound package assigned Hillsdale prior to the start of the season. For once racing got underway, the Indiana-bred colt won four stakes including the $100,000 Maturity and in every one of them carried more weight than he does Saturday.

IQ's Not Everything

ONEIDA, N. Y. (UPI) — A survey shows that five of the top students in the 1958 graduating class at Oneida High School had intelligence quotients slightly lower than many of their classmates. School officials attributed this in part to better study habits.

YOUTHFUL VISITORS to the Palm Desert exhibit at Date Festival and County Fair in Indio were the three children—Kathy, David and Chris—of Mrs. Marvin Kretz, right, of Indio. Greeting them are Mr. and Mrs. Willard Parker. Parker is star of TV series "Tales of the Texas Rangers" and his wife is the former Virginia Field, star of stage and screen. Palm Desert booth won a Special Award from fair's judges.

'SPECIAL AWARD' GIVEN PD BOOTH AT INDIO FAIR

PALM DESERT — With a Special Award ribbon etched in their hands, members of the Palm Desert Chamber of Commerce's booth at the Riverside County Fair and National Date Festival have arrived home, tired but content.

First major project for the bustling PD Chamber, the group of desert residents who manned the booth reported that "most of the 188,000 people who visited the fair visited us." Over 2,000 brochures extolling the virtues of living in Palm Desert—which they call "The Smartest Address on the American Desert"—were distributed to fair visitors.

THE PROJECT was only the first phase of an overall development program planned by the Chamber, according to Phil Franklin, president of the organization.

and Russ Tate, the Chamber's newly-appointed publicity director.

The booth is to be retained and shipped to other fairs in the Western United States for exhibition. Included in the Palm Desert booth were highlights of community life—golf, family and other phases—in Palm Desert. A golf cart, provided by Col. George L. Townsend, was utilized in the exhibit along with desert plants furnished by Bill Todd of Todd's Nursery.

MANNING THE Palm Desert booth in four-hour shifts were movie star Virginia Field, her TV star husband Willard Parker, Frank Sorenson, Vera Gordon, Charlotte Stewart, Ralph Hale, L. Cien Miller, Cliff Young, Walt Holmes, B. W. Baker, Lenel Tate, Richard Adams, Esther Phillips, Helen Furer, Pat Anderson, Pam Tate, Carol Anderson, Andy Anderson, Dick Daman and Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Phillips.

Daman also furnished his truck for use in transporting the exhibit materials to the Indio fair site.

NE WYORK — (UPI) — The ginger ale business got its start in the early days of Prohibition when the public demanded "a mixer, or vehicle to mask the unsavory taste of the various unlawful concoctions frequently offered to consumers," according to industry sources.

The $1 billion soft drink industry is believed to have originated in Europe in the 1700's out of efforts to duplicate the sparkling waters of natural springs.

Smartest Address on the American Desert

Dear Abby...

... by Abigail VanBuren

DEAR ABBY: My son, 22, is making a trip across the country and he plans to take a couple of passengers along to help defray expenses. One woman, 24, who is a divorcee with a questionable reputation, wants to make the trip. Isn't transporting a woman from State to State illegal?

DEAR ASKING: Transporting woman from State to State for IMMORAL purposes is illegal. Your son would be wise to take only passengers who were above suspicion. The Mann Act has come in handy for some women.

DEAR ABBY: I got into a little quarrel with my wife. I shoved her once and she tripped over a chair. Her son (my step-son) who is 19 and weighs 210 pounds, thinking I knocked her down, came in swinging and I had to show him who was boss. The wife called the cops and I was so mad at this kid of hers that I told the policeman that he was a deserter from the Army, which he was.

They locked him up and it took three policemen and the desk sergeant to subdue my wife. I apologized, but now the wife won't have anything to do with me. She threw my clothes out the window and locked me out. What should I do?

DEAR LOCKED: I think for the present you are probably "safer" locked out. Wait till she cools off and try for a "return engagement" at a later date.

DEAR ABBY: I have been corresponding with a brother of mine who lives several thousands of miles from me. I know his weaknesses well and have sent him literature on those subjects in hopes that it would straighten him out. I just received a belated Christmas gift from him. It was his personal check for $25.00 and enclosed was the message: "Please use this to have your head read." Now nothing is the matter with my head. HE is more in need of having HIS head read than I. How would you handle this?

DEAR MARJORIE: Ask his mother for a few baby pictures of him naked on a fur rug. Hold them for bargaining purposes.

DEAR MARJORIE: If I had a dollar for every man who told a girl he was unhappily married and she was the best thing that ever happened to him in his entire life, I'd have enough money to buy this newspaper. Do not buy his sad story, or yours will be a sadder one.

Six Houses Open on A.A.U.W. Tour

Six Palm Springs homes will be on view Sunday from 1 to 5 p.m., when Palm Springs Branch of the American Association of University Women holds its Third Annual Home Tour. Mrs. Jerome Bunker, Home Tour chairman, and her committee have selected six homes of varied sizes and decor, ranging from Chinese to Contemporary. Four of the home owners are collectors of art or antiques and three belong to artists in different fields.

The homes to be shown include those of actor Kirk Douglas, artist Earl Cordrey, music publisher Edwin Morris, concert organist Cornelius Maffie, builder Joseph Dunas, and art collector Ralph Smith.

Douglas Home

The Douglas home at 515 Via Lola, is a modern, beamed-ceiling house, with lots of glass. Decor is predominantly in grays, whites and pinks to make a background for the Douglas art collection. Although most of the movie star's collection is housed in their Beverly Hills home, there are many fine canvases here, including three Toulouse-Lautrec posters, a Picasso, and three Neufus line drawings. Chinese teakwood is at home in this modern home and there is a fine pewter lamp base. The livingroom features a glass enclosed garden with entrance to the pool bath. Entrance hall planter and fireplace are of pink pumice rock. The children's room for the Douglas' two boys has a notable collection of stuffed animals, dear to the hearts of all children.

Cordrey Home

Gold and white is the color motif for furniture and decorations in the Cordrey home at 677 Crescent Drive. A treasure chest of Mexican chests and figurines of Aztec origin, while a 400-year-old Spanish figure, weathered and battered, serves as a lamp base. There is a French Provincial bedroom, and a studio where Cordrey paints award winning canvases. He works both in oil and water color and is perhaps best-known for his magazine illustrations.

Morris Home

At 650 North Via Miraleste stands the home of Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Morris. Built 20 years ago, its excellent design and many glass sections, make it an interesting example of how good architecture withstands the test of time and extensive remodeling. The wide-planked oak floor has been bleached white and waxed, and the off-white walls and light natural beamed ceilings set off the Morris art collection to advantage. These paintings include the work of Impressionism, Expressionism, Abstract and Pointillism. Schools of Art, with fine examples by Picasso, Braque, Dufy, Cross and Matisse. Furniture is mostly antiques, skillfully blended with contemporary couches and chairs. The master dressing room and bath, recently remodeled is as new as tomorrow, and there is a children's wing, completely separated from the other bedrooms.

Maffie Home

The Chinese modern home of Mr. and Mrs. Cornelius Maffie at 1150 Sagebrush Road, boasts such unique features as a glass-enclosed garden in the livingroom (twice pictured in the L.A. Times Home Section), central fireplace and hood, sunken tub and private patio in the master bath. The famous organist's black organ and tape recorder stand out strikingly against a background of rock in the livingroom. Of particular interest are the many mosaic works adorning the walls of this home, all done by the master of the house. Professional in quality it is shown by local galleries. Maffie, whose current show "Cornelius Maffie Entertains" is enjoyed over CBS radio, has played background music for many popular programs.

Dunas Home

In the Joseph Dunas home at 1865 Apache Circle, the comfortable livingroom features a grouping for conversation, with extra length sofas forming a corner arrangement with a king-size marble topped coffee table. Basic color for the house is beige, with other color accents. Above one sofa is a large mosaic of the four seasons, commissioned from Fred Newman, well-known mosaic artist. There are several gardens, located both inside and outside the unusual home. The antiqued mirror wall of the entrance hall, artistically-planned decor, and quiet elegance, mark this home.

Smith Home

Extra height ceilings and sliding doors command attention in the spacious home of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Smith at 424 West Vereda Sur. The livingroom is off-white, with white wool, wall-to-wall carpeting especially woven in England from wool imported from India. Kansas Citians, the owners have collected art and many fine paintings are hung in their home, as well as objects d'art from around the world. A Persian

SIX HOUSES will be on view Sunday afternoon when the A.A.U.W. stages its annual Home Tour. One of the homes to be shown is that of Mr. and Mrs. Edwin J. Morris. Three of the women in charge of the Tour are pictured in the Morris home, which is of special interest because of the fine art collection on its walls. The women are, from left, Mrs. Howard Mathews, Mrs. Herbert Burns, and Mrs. Frederick Morrison, president. (Desert Sun Photo)

'Quick and Dirty' Soviets May Beat U.S. Into Space

SAN FRANCISCO — (UPI) — The commander of the Pacific Missile Range says the Soviet Union may put a man into space ahead of the United States because the Russians favor the "quick and dirty" method—in other words are less concerned with what happens to the man.

And the USSR has another major advantage—it has the required power now and the United States will not have it for about a year, according to Rear Adm. Jack P. Monroe.

Monroe told newsmen Wednesday that "it's anybody's guess whether Russia or the United States will be first, but Russia might beat us because they won't take the pains to protect the man that we intend to take."

Council Names Three Honored Citizens of Week

The Palm Springs City Council, staggered by a weeklong monopoly by the Village of major television programs, last night voted to name three persons "Honored Citizens of the Week."

By resolution, the councilmen named:

Charles Byron, the former Army sergeant interviewed on "Truth or Consequences."

Mrs. Zaddie Bunker, Palm Springs "Flying Great Grandmother," feted on "This Is Your Life."

Fred Weigel, reporter for The Desert Sun, whose research on the story of Mrs. Bunker provided the Ralph Edwards program with the necessary material to stage the aviatrix' life on TV.

The council lauded the manner in which the three have "made millions of Americans" more conscious of Palm Springs and the desert area.

Indio May Get Supervisorial Seats for Court

A suggestion by purchasing agent Joseph H. Cass that seats in the supervisorial chamber in the courthouse at Riverside be replaced by new upholstered seats and the seats presently in use there be used in the Indio Justice Court and Jurupa Justice Court, was returned to him this week with a request for a more specific proposal as to costs, type of new seats contemplated, etc.

Cass said that seats in the court room in Indio, which now is occupied by Superior Court Judge Hilton McCabe, are in such condition that it would not be economical to attempt to repair them for use in the remodeled justice court room.

HOTELMAN PHIL NORTON, his wife Lalita, left, and a longtime friend, Elizabeth Hill, show off some of the furs trapped by Norton and his wife around their old Jackson Hole, Wyo., ranch. Mrs. Norton is holding a silver fox robe, Norton has a batch of wild mink and Miss Hill is holding a marten skin. Now a houseguest at Norton's hotel, Miss Hill is head nurse at St. John's Hospital in Jackson Hole, where, Norton claims, "she saved my life" after he was tossed from a bucking horse. (Desert Sun Photo)

400 FURS PROUDLY DISPLAYED BY PHIL NORTONS -- 10 WINTERS WORK

By AL LE ANCE

They looked a little out of place in this Palm Springs sunlight, but Phil Norton's furs were the kind of stuff a glamor doll's dreams are made of.

Heaped in careless swatches around the Norton living room, dozens of carefully cured mink pelts rubbed bristles with silver fox, beaver and martin in a sort of Sciaparellian nightmare.

"TRAPPED 'EM ALL MYSELF," Norton beamed, referring of course, to the animals which once inhabited his 400-odd skins.

"Took me and my wife (Lalita) 10 years to get them," he mused, holding up a brace of auburn colored minks. "Aren't they beauties?"

The furs—all of them beauties—were on display in Norton's apartment at his Casa Blanca Hotel here.

"NO, I'M NOT going into the fur business," he said, answering the obvious question. "I'm having them made up into coats and wraps for my wife and daughter-in-law."

Norton, a Wyoming rancher turned Village hotel owner, snared his furs over a period of 10 long winters in the wilderness surrounding his Jackson Hole homestead.

POINTING TO A picture showing him garbed in trappings befitting a snow-plodding hunter, Norton recalled how he traipsed some 35 miles a day to collect his pelts. "I traveled on snowshoes at altitudes of 11,000 feet, where the temperature dropped to 10 or 20 degrees below zero," he recollected. "so I could collect my furs before the shrew mice got 'em."

Norton, a rangy citizen whose eyes have squinted at the sun from Siberia to California for some three-score years, went into the fur-gathering business because he owed his wife a fur coat.

IT ALL STARTED when Norton, accompanied by his wife, was traveling through Russia in 1921 on a mission for Uncle Sam. His wife was offered a "bootleg" sable coat for $1,000, but Norton had to turn it down.

"That coat was worth $50,000," he said, explaining that he felt the Bolsheviks would have taken unkindly to such a display of Capitalistic wealth.

So Norton started trapping for marten, "the American cousin of Russian sable," to build his wife's coat.

"MY NEIGHBORS sure laughed when I started," he drawled. "I didn't know a blamed thing about trapping, but I got 26 pelts the first year and they all stopped laughing."

In the succeeding years, Norton amassed a grand total of 180 marten pelts, worth about $16,000; about 80 skins from wild mink, 160-odd beaver furs and a few-score silver fox and prairie wolf. The fox and wolf skins were made up into sled robes.

"I doubt if we'll ever get to use them though," Norton mused. "There isn't much call for dog sleds here."

NORTON HASN'T trapped for several years now, but he's kept the furs, which he and his wife skinned, in cold storage until just two weeks ago.

Most of them were sent to New York for curing and tanning.

Norton has no idea of the total value of his furs, but he's sure they'll be welcome additions to the wardrobes of his wife and daughter-in-law when they're transformed into the latest styles in wraps and jackets.

City Will Use Prisoner Labor

City Council last night passed an ordinance that will allow the Chief of Police to utilize prisoner labor for public works.

Never before in the city code, the ordinance spells out the use of prisoners in doing public works within the city.

The Chief of Police is empowered to choose the work the prisoners will do and is responsible for them.

Heretofore, local prisoners have been transferred to the County Jail at Riverside and held awaiting arraignment and trial.

Reagan Subdivision

W-1 Zoning Hearing Is Continued

Hearings on the controversial Coachella Valley County Water District proposal for change of zone to W-1 for a 12-square-mile area northeast of Palm Springs and on the closely related Gay Char Rea Unit No. 2 subdivision proposed by Dr. A. C. Reagan, were continued this week to April 13 at 1:30 p. m.

Dr. Reagan's attorney, H. L. Thompson, failed in an attempt to have both the hearings continued to fall.

"I COULD NEVER support continuance beyond April," declared Supervisor George Berkey. "We've already been accused of holding up action. The routing of Highway 111 could be affected by our decision on these matters and for this reason the people of Palm Springs are anxiously awaiting the outcome of these hearings."

Continuance to April was in compliance with a request from the Palm Springs office of the Bureau of Indian Affairs, R. W. Jackson, acting director, said a portion of the area is held in trust by the U. S. Government for the Agua Caliente Band of Mission Indians. "We are now in the process of making a study of this proposed zoning," he told the supervisors.

REQUESTS FOR the postponement to April were also received from Gil E. Ellingson, and from Simon & Simon, Palm Springs attorneys representing Patricia Gorman, owner of property immediately adjacent to the proposed Reagan subdivision.

Maurice Sherrill, attorney for the Coachella Valley County Water District, expressed opposition to any continuance. He said he couldn't understand the sudden interest shown by the Bureau of Indian Affairs. It was at the water district's request that the planning commission initiated proceedings for the W-1 (watercourse) zoning for the Whitewater spreading grounds area. This district has opposed Dr. Reagan's subdivision development without adequate flood protection.

ors that the hearing will take two or three days' time.

JACOB W. SILVERMAN of Los Angeles told the supervisors that he feels the W-1 zoning proposal is in the nature of confiscation. "If the Coachella Valley County Water District wants our land they should get it by condemnation and not try to get through the back door free of charge," he declared. "The proposal is confiscatory and excessive." He joined Thompson in urging continuance to fall. Thompson warned the supervisors
